Dear Ms. Daphnie Saint-Preux

The International Institute for Restorative Practices (IIRP), Federal Tax ID 23-3069199, is the leading organization in the world that is reliably making schools and communities safer, by way of restorative practices. IIRP is the sole distributor of materials in restorative practices. The IIRP provides the special services of restorative practices trainings and materials for professional development events.

Restorative practices is a way to hold people accountable in a participatory way that is effective in changing behavior.

Safer schools, meaning reduced incidents of disciplinary incidents, better staff attendance, improved staff-student relationship, is the benefit of restorative practices.

Sincerely,

Linda Kligman
Vice President for Administration
