

Q. Who will be responsible for removing the generator from the trailer once they are delivered?

A. All generators are self-contained on trailers for ease of transporting them from point to point. The vendors are responsible for delivering and off-loading the units on trailers at our site.

Q. I do not see how the selling company can provide the purchaser with a Florida License Tag. These tags normally have to be obtained by the final owner of the purchased equipment. Please give me guidance if you can.

A. Just like vehicle dealers handle the tagging of your vehicle for a fee, vendors are required to tag these trailers and add the cost to the unit price. The best source of information for the cost and forms is an auto tag agency. We will sign the forms.

Q. Please advise if the units for this Bid are for rental or purchase.

A. Although "Rental Grade" is required, the units are for purchase.
