

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FOR BID # 095-NN06

QUESTION 1:

Floor Finish Minimum is 21% as on page of General Specifications of the floor finish FSPMA PBCC-29.2 Performance Based floor Finish.

On the Bid Proposal Page was written 23%-25% SHOULD BE MINIMUM 21%

ANSWER:

The Bid Proposal Page requirement supersedes the minimum on the General Specification FSPMA PBCC-29.9. The minimum requirement is 23% solids

QUESTION 2:

We will be shipping product samples, MSDS sheets, Form A & B and a check for $1877.79 in fees to the testing center early next week.

ANSWER:

You are not required to send samples unless the buyer makes that request in writing.

QUESTION 3:

In the section titled "Additional Specifications and Requirements", in paragraph 2.. under general specifications, it states that the floor finish shall have a minimum of 21% solids. However, two pages later in the section titled "FSPMA Specifications", in paragraph A.c) it states that the percent of solids of the floor finish product shall fall within the 17% - 25% range.

ANSWER:

The minimum requirement on the Bid Proposal Page is correct. The minimum requirement is 23% (see answer for question 1)

QUESTION 4:

Is there anyway to get the price of the bid that won last year.

ANSWER:

The old bid # 110-JJ02. The website is http://procurement.dadeschools.net/bidsol/asp/bid_portal.htm

There is a link on the right "Agenda Item" you will be able to find the prices and tab sheet there.

QUESTION: 5

Is the method of payment pre-determined for the above bid?

Do you know if payment will be made by credit card or check, now, or is that decided at the time an order is placed

ANSWER:

No, the method of payment is not pre-determined for the bid.